

LIBRARY RESEARCH AWARD FOR UNDERGRADUATES

HONORABLE MENTIONS

JULIA ABELEV

Perceptual Realism and the Winter War of 1939
[Political Science]

LAURA HARRINGTON

Freetown Girls: Post-Conflict Gender Identity in Sierra Leone
[Comparative History of Ideas]

MAGGI NAFIE LITTLE

How the UN Failed Kosova and the Role of the EU
[European Studies]

MIKHAIL SMIRNOV

Explaining the East Asian “Miracle”: Differentiating between Export Promotion and Retail Demand [Economics]

GUS ANDREASEN, ALISON MCKAY, KRISTIN OLSON, STEPHEN
PRINTZ, ANDREW SCHWARTZ, MARTA SCHWENDEMAN,
NAAMA SHEFFER, JAMIE STROBLE, & JULIA TROUTT
Towards Arctic Resolution: Issues of Sovereignty and Governance in the Circumpolar North
[Canadian Studies]

2009 AWARD RECIPIENTS

CAMERON ROBERT RULE

Morphological Integration of Foreign Elements in Russian: Comparison of Russians in Lithuania and Estonia
[Slavic Languages & Literatures]

ERINA AOYAMA

Marginalization and Veneration: The Contradiction in Perceptions of Japanese Biracial Celebrities
[International Studies]

CHRISTINE LINDELL

The Young and the Restless: Serbian
Youth, EU Visas and the Consequences of Conditionality
[International Studies]

LUKE CALDWELL

The Changing Winds of Civilization:
The Aboriginal and Sovereignty
Between the Desert and the State
[Comparative History of Ideas]

VALERIE HOAGLAND

La Vergine Completa:
Visione Particolare di una
Donna Straordinaria nel
Quattrocentro
[French & Italian Studies]

SCARLETT MAI

Mediating the Tension between Individual and Cultural Rights
[Comparative History of Ideas]

Every year the University Libraries recognizes outstanding undergraduate research projects that result in significant inquiry and require use of information resources, the library and its collections.

This year more than 40 students applied for the award. Out of these applications, six outstanding seniors received awards. An additional four students plus one group project were awarded honorable mentions. The University Libraries congratulates all the 2009 Library Research Award for Undergraduate recipients.

For more information on the awards including the complete list of winning projects and application information, see the webpage at:

www.lib.washington.edu/researchaward/