The Tacoma Trades Council was organized on 3 April 1890 as an independent organization. It was dormant after March 14, 1895 until November 13, 1899 when it affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. After it was dissolved in September 1907, a new body, the Tacoma Central Labor Council, was chartered by the AFL on 5 November 1907. The records of the Tacoma Trades Council were turned over to the Central Labor Council at this time. Of them only the minutes have survived. They begin on 13 November 1907.

As a result of the AFL-CIO merger the Tacoma Central Labor Council (AFL) and the Pierce County Industrial Union Council (CIO) merged to form the Pierce County Central Labor Council on 4 December 1957.

In 1909 the Central Labor Council established its newspaper, the Tacoma Labor Advocate, which was published until 1978. The University of Washington Newspaper Collection has holdings of the Tacoma Labor Advocate for the years 1918 to 1975 and for some issues in 1977.

The survival of a substantial and continual record of one labor organization is remarkable. In Northwestern labor history it is virtually unprecedented. Scholars whose work is enriched by this documentation are indebted to Harry S. McIlvaigh, who served as Secretary-Treasurer of the Central Labor Council from 1933 to 1963. When the CLC moved its offices, McIlvaigh made sure that the records were moved into a secure place in the new building. A taped interview with him is in Accession No. 2282-2.

More than half of the accession consists of the records of the secretary-treasurers, primarily in the form of letters, financial records, and minutes. The secretary-treasurers represented in the correspondence and their probable dates in office are:

- Burns, T. F. 1913
- LaBrash, Frank G. 1914
- Last, Rea 1915
- Harrison, H. Roy 1916-1917
- Lyons, Joseph 1917-1918
- Dickson, A. L. 1918-1922
- Morris, W. T. 1922-1924
- Taylor, Joseph 1924-1933
- McIlvaigh, Harry S. 1933-1963
- Pederson, L. H. 1963-1970
NOTES ON ARRANGEMENT

The original order of incoming correspondence has been retained. These letters are grouped by various time periods, usually a year or two-year period, and then are arranged alphabetically. Manuscripts Section rules for filing labor union materials are described below. Outgoing letters are arranged chronologically.

Records from committees and affiliated organizations of the Council have been subgrouped. Within each one are listed such record series as letters, minutes, and resolutions. They subgroups and their dates are:

- Central Labor Council, Pierce County.
  Committee on Political Education 1958-72
- Labor Day Committee. 1933-36
- Mother Robinson Committee. 1914,1920
- Labor Temple Corporation 1913-59
- Tacoma Labor Advocate 1915-60
- United Labor Advisory Committee 1956-58
- Washington. Vocational Training Board.
  Apprentice Training Committee 1935-46
- Women's Union Card and Label League, Tacoma 1915-25

An index was created only from the incoming letters series. Entries were chosen for inclusion by strictly quantitative criteria. Between 1913 and 1922 names were indexed if two or more letters occurred in a folder. After 1922 the criterion was 3 or more letters to a folder. Researchers should note that they cannot make a comprehensive search of the collection from the index. The index is only to major correspondents.

Manuscripts Section corporate entry rules: Labor unions

Entry is by the generic name of the trade, but the full name of the international union is used, followed by the number of the local, if any. An example is:

'Carpenters and Joiners of America, International Brotherhood of. Local 470'. If the local has a more specific name, such as 'Lumber and Sawmill Workers,' its records are still filed under the name of the international union (Carpenters in this case) UNLESS the international affiliation was not known by the processors. In that case, the local is filed under its specific generic name; this is the case with 'Millwrights.'

During the early part of the century many locals did not include the name of their international affiliation on their letterheads, or they were not yet affiliated. As a result their early letters have been filed under specific local name such as 'Cooks and Waiters Union. Local 61', and their later letters have been filed under the international union, 'Hotel, Motel, and Restaurant Employees' and Bartenders' International Union. Local 61'. Thus it is necessary to check any possible name that a union may have used in order to make a thorough search of the files.
