DONALD A. SCHMECHEL ORAL HISTORY PROJECT
Accession No. 4056-3

GUIDE

Donald Schmechel was a Seattle attorney and political supporter of Henry M. Jackson who conducted interviews with over 100 people who knew Jackson. Informants include U.S. Senators, Washington State political leaders, public officials, former Jackson aides and political supporters of Jackson. Schmechel died in 1988 without finishing the project. Laszlo Pal, a documentary film maker who had worked on Jackson's campaigns, conducted some of the interviews. Some of the interviews are also available on videotape. Some of the interviews are open to all, some are closed and several are open with restrictions. A tape may not be used if one of the interviews on the tape is not open. Partial transcripts for many of the interviews are included. The Henry M. Jackson Foundation provided funding for this project.

The Donald Schmechel interviews were donated to the Libraries in 1989 and 1995 by Schmechel's daughter, Nancy Schmechel and the Jackson Foundation. They were processed in 1996 and measure 7.26 cubic feet.
